Explore Australia's marvels with an $800K Major Prize

By supporting the Deaf Lottery, you are helping to support the aspirations of Deaf and hard-of-hearing Australians via our Grants and Sponsorships program – like Gonketa, a Deaf street artist.

TICKETS $2

A $2 ticket in the Deaf Lottery could buy you one of four fabulous major prize options, giving you your dream set of wheels, a matching Jayco caravan and the opportunity to craft a luxurious holiday exploring the unexplored in Tasmania. But your ticket doesn't just give you a change to win big – it's an opportunity to make an impact.

Gonketa is a significant name in the Australian Deaf community. His art is well recognised and has even been featured on billboards, and at the end of 2023 Deaf Connect supported him to produce an extraordinary experiential art exhibition in regional Victoria. The exhibition offered a cultural exchange, and an immersion into the Deaf experience.

"People often ask me what language I think in internally, and I want to bring it to life and show it to everyone.

A student asked me this question yesterday: "What can you hear? Like I can hear English inside my head."

I responded: "I can't hear; all I can see are visual communications. I imagine how we communicate through body expressions, whether it's with hands or without them. It's all visual. Even now, I can see it."

The Deaf Lottery has provided support to the community for over 35 years, helping Deaf and hard-of-hearing Australians achieve their goals, from the ordinary to the extraordinary. These grants play a pivotal role in supporting and empowering the Australian Deaf community – from allowing sporting teams to compete on an international scale, to the development of television shows, or facilitating events that build ties within the Deaf community.

Supporting the Deaf Lottery is a win/win! Your ticket purchase makes all the difference – we wish you the best of luck in Lottery 212!

About the artist GONKETA

Jaycob is a Melbourne artist born profoundly Deaf. Working under the pseudonym, 'Gonketa,' Jaycob uses bold, bright colours and linework as a reflection of his influences from a range of contemporary styles such as graphic novels, sci-fi and street art.

He was selected as the Deaf Australian of the year in 2021 in recognition of his achievements and advocacy across multiple platforms. Jaycob continually aims to promote self-determination for all members of the Auslan community.

Jaycob has received support from the Deaf Lottery to deliver his own exhibition in Benalla, Regional Victoria.

LIGHTNING STRIKES TWICE

"I have won three prizes with the Deaf Lottery now, second prize, first prize and the book buyers prize. I am so glad I buy the bigger books otherwise I wouldn't have gotten the extra $30,000."

VIP Supporter Brendan* believes in supporting charity lotteries and giving back to the community. "I have industrial deafness from serving in the Australian military, that's why I support the Deaf Lottery as a VIP for every draw."

Brendan was overwhelmed with choice – purchase a house? Buy a new car? In the end, he opted for a fully loaded Volkswagon Amarok, using his gold bullion to secure a deposit for a new home, and is undertaking a grand tour of Australia with his loyal dog Bourbon.
